RBF Consulting (RBF) provides processing services for a wide range of land development, transportation and public works projects from initial investigation, through final permit processing and approval. With over 57 years of experience, RBF has established professional working relationships with local, state and federal agencies, water districts, railroads, and other special districts.

RBF's Permit Processing Department utilizes a proactive work approach to obtain agency permits in a timely and efficient manner. RBF Project Coordinators, acting as liaisons between government agencies, project engineers, clients, and sub-consultants, prepare and package completed submittals in accordance with agency criteria.

Project Coordinators are responsible for tracking the status of plan check submittals, assisting the design team in properly addressing agency comments, completing applications and calculating fees, which allow for a timely submittal to obtain necessary approvals.

RBF Project Coordinators work closely with clients to satisfy conditions during specific phases of the project. Additionally, Project Coordinators monitor tentative map and permit expirations and process time extensions as necessary.

RBF's Permit Processing Department has specialized expertise in processing construction permits on a fast track basis for Design/Build projects and is highly experienced in securing Public Encroachment and Private Entry Permits.
