PROGRAM / CONSTRUCTION MANAGEMENT

From program management consulting assistance to the design and construction of public works projects, RBF Consulting (RBF) offers a professional staff with practical, hands-on experience to assist public agencies in meeting the needs of their communities.

RBF professionals understand the importance of agency, business and residential community goals and objectives associated with public works projects. RBF's proactive project approach is focused on developing positive working relationships within the agency and community, and creating innovative, timely and cost effective solutions to critical project issues. The firm has completed hundreds of projects for public agencies related to freeways, streets, sewer, water, flood control, bridges and public facility site development throughout California, Arizona and Nevada.

RBF's multi-discipline capability covers the professional service disciplines needed to deliver successful public works facility improvement projects to our clients. These disciplines include planning, environmental, surveying, right of way, utilities, highway, traffic, drainage, structural, and landscape design, as well as construction management and inspection.
