RBF Consulting (RBF) has been providing a comprehensive selection of Tribal Government related services to clients throughout the Southwestern United States for nearly three decades.

Professional services include all disciplines related to the completion of reservation development activities, including casino, hotel and resort development; residential and educational facility development; transportation planning and design services, and economic development activities.

RBF also offers specialized services for essential tasks associated with Tribal Government development activities. These services include fee-to-trust land conveyance; reservation master plans; land surveying and mapping; traffic impact analysis; water resource development; environmental services; civil and structural engineering, and construction management.

RBF is sensitive to the unique relationship of Tribal Governments to local and state governments, and the need and desire of Tribal Governments to fast-track projects. RBF experts provide solutions to the unique challenges faced by Tribal Governments in balancing limited land and natural resources with the desire to develop the Tribal Community.

With 12 offices located throughout California, Arizona, and Nevada, RBF can provide professional design services, which are reflective of the needs, social aspirations and the cultural values of the nearly 145 Tribal Governments within our service area.
